

The cornerstone of this ambitious plan is the laying of a fibre optic cable under Lake Tanganyika, a strategic move that positions Zambia as a pivotal ...

Central to the MoU is the ambitious plan to lay a fibre optic cable beneath Lake Tanganyika, which positions Zambia as a crucial hub for Information and Communication Technology ...

In today's headlines, African Telecoms giant Seacom announced that it will be laying fiber optic broadband cables in the coming year in three African nations: Burundi, Somalia, and Southern ...

Zambia and Burundi have signed a landmark Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) that will establish a fibre optic connection between the two countries, further enhancing digital ...

Burundi and Zambia are to be connected via an underwater fibre optic cable, following an agreement at the second Digital Government Africa Summit, which took place from 2-4 October 2024 ...

Burundi and Zambia are set to be linked through an underwater fiber optic cable following the signing of a memorandum of understanding (MoU) at the Digital Government Africa Summit in ...

Burundi and Zambia have taken a significant step towards enhancing their digital connectivity by signing a key agreement to lay underwater fibre optic cables in Lake Tanganyika.

This project involves laying a cable from Zambia to Burundi, with over 350 kilometers already installed, and aims to improve internet access and communication in both countries.

Burundi has officially launched its $25 million fibre-optic cable network project to widen access to broadband Internet to its population. The country still relies on some of the slowest internet ...

Minister of Technology and Science Felix Mutati said the MoU marks the connection of a fibre optic cable to be laid under Lake Tanganyika from Mpulungu District in Northern Province, along ...

Central to the MoU is the ambitious plan to lay a fibre optic cable beneath Lake Tanganyika, which positions Zambia as a crucial hub for ...

The cornerstone of this ambitious plan is the laying of a fibre optic cable under Lake Tanganyika, a strategic move that positions Zambia as a pivotal ICT hub in East and Southern Africa.

Web: <https://www.tlaetsoglobal.co.za>