

The sale of fiber optic cables falls under basic telecommunications services

Establishments in the Telecommunications subsector are grouped into three industry groups. The first two are comprised of establishments that operate transmission facilities and infrastructure that they ...

Applicability. This change applies to a cable system operator that is within the scope of Rev. Proc. 2015-12, 2015-2 I.R.B., and wants to change to the safe harbor method of

When I work with telecom companies, I often explain that NAICS codes in the 517 series specifically cover telecommunications activities. These codes help classify businesses that provide ...

After months of debate and speculation, the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) issued its order last month reclassifying broadband internet access service (BIAS) as a ...

Telecommunications services means the services acquired, whether by lease or contract, to meet the Government's telecommunications needs. The term includes the telecommunications facilities and ...

The Telecommunications subsector is primarily engaged in operating, and/or providing access to facilities for the transmission of voice, data, text, sound, and video.

After months of debate and speculation, the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) issued its order last month reclassifying broadband internet ...

When acquiring telecommunications services, the contracting officer may use a basic agreement (see FAR 16.702) in conjunction with communication service authorizations.

"Telecommunications services" means the services acquired, whether by lease or contract, to meet the Government's telecommunications needs. The term includes the ...

While information services are typically exempt from most forms of direct FCC regulation, offerings classified as either telecommunications or telecommunications services are subject to direct ...

This subsector covers a range of services like telephony (including VoIP), cable and satellite TV distribution, internet access, and telecom reselling services.

The sale of fiber optic cables falls under basic telecommunications services

Web: <https://www.tlaletsoglobal.co.za>