

As a new school term approaches, thousands of children across Uganda are faced with uncertainty not because they lack ambition or ability, but because they cannot afford the financial ...

Cost of Education in Uganda (ESRA Brief Issue 15) This policy brief offers a comprehensive exploration of the multifaceted challenges and opportunities within the Ugandan education system, reflecting the ...

Uganda Health News feature 6 May 2026 "We are going to die": The frontline costs of Uganda's new US health agreement "We are fighting political and cultural wars. Wars that are not ...

Despite government policies promising free education, families in Uganda continue to shoulder a heavy financial burden. In Kampala, where private schools dominate the sector, the cost ...

For many parents in Uganda, affording a quality education has become an unsustainable burden. The high and often arbitrary fees demanded by private schools, sometimes under dubious ...

Uganda performs better than South Sudan and Angola in terms of education spending within the East and Southern Africa region. However, the regional average stands at 14.2% of national budget ...

In line with the Inter-governmental Fiscal Transfer Reform Programme, allocations to Local Government are formula based. The Education Grants are split into Wage, Non Wage and Development ...

Under the agreement, Uganda has pledged to increase domestic health funding by about $50 million annually, more than $500 million over five years, while the US foots the rest of the bill ...

It includes expenditure funded by transfers from international sources to government. General government usually refers to local, regional and central governments. The full historical dataset is ...

For many parents in Uganda, affording a quality education has become an unsustainable burden. The high and often arbitrary fees demanded by private ...

In Uganda today, the consistent upward trajectory of school fees has become a pressing concern, leaving many puzzled about the underlying factors behind this persistent trend.

Web: <https://www.tlaetsoglobal.co.za>